10078032 FRONTE PASTA BUCATINI ITALY

20/1 #

108012 RISCOSSA PASTA BUCATINI ITALY

20/1 #

To the untrained eye, it might get mistaken for spaghetti, but upon further inspection, you'll notice it's a bit thicker. And upon even further inspection, you'll notice there a little baby hole that runs all the way through the noodle. And that hollow center is what makes bucatini so fantastic. Where spaghetti or linguine get coated with sauce, bucatini gets coated and filled with sauce. It's the ultimate delivery vehicle for velvety pasta sauces like cacio e pepe or carbonara. That hollow center gives you more sauce with each bite.

With these portioned products, restaurant chain owners save time, because precooking and portioning are dispensed with. They optimize the workflows, shorten the waiting times for the guests down to a minimum, guarantee the best possible hygienic standards, and avoid food waste.

Did you know.....?

- ❖ The first U.S. Labor Day was celebrated on Tuesday, September 5, 1882, in New York City, planned by the Central Labor Union. The Labor Day parade of about 10,000 workers took unpaid leave and marched from City Hall past Union Square uptown to 42nd street, and ended in Wendel's Elm Park at 92nd Street and 9th Avenue for a concert, speeches, and a picnic.
- ❖ Bananas, cucumbers, kiwis are all classed as berries. Strawberries, blackberries and raspberries are not.
- ❖ In the late 1800s the average American worked 12-hour days and seven-day weeks to eke out a basic living. Children as young as 5-6 years old worked in factories and mines.
- ❖ As of July 2019, there were more than 160 million people in the civilian labor force in the US.
- ❖ Lobsters are quite literally sea insects that were a hard sale back in the day. They used to be chucked back in the sea or given to servants. There used to be a law on how much lobster you could serve a prisoner as too much was considered to be cruel. How things have changed.
