

Veal cutlets are thin, boneless portions of meat taken from the leg of the animal. What makes a cutlet a cutlet is pounding the meat until it has even thinness. Pounding the cutlet flattens it, which in turn makes it cook more quickly, an advantage since the meat is usually from a tougher section of the animal and shouldn't be cooked any longer than necessary or else it will turn out chewy and inedible. Our cutlets are pre-pounded for your convenience.
